Regarding DACA students and the two Executive Orders temporarily restricting entry of certain foreign nationals in to the United States: each of these Executive Orders have been enjoined by Federal courts and are not in effect, at least temporarily. Adelphi University, through its DACA International and Immigration Task Force, is committed to monitoring such orders and related policies and their effect on campus climate.

It is essential for the university to have a consistent set of protocols to serve as a guide when responding to government inquiries. In light of the revised Executive Order, as well as heightened attention to undocumented immigrants living in the United States, the following set of protocols are designed to guide the university community in the event they are contacted by Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

8. Without a legal mandate, there will be no enforcement of federal immigration laws.
