Offboarding Steps For the Manager

Confirm with the employee that all electronic files containing University data from personally owned computers, mobile devices, storage media (hard drives/flash drives) have been migrated to a shared drive and removed.

If the employee is retaining another role at Adelphi, contact the Help Desk to remove access to other systems, including departmental drives, Taleo and Slate, for example. This is important especially when the employee has a status change and their account will remain active in the case of a dual role or otherwise.

Ensure that the employee has returned any University-owned property including computer, cell phone, laptop, printers, and keys.

Verify removal of employee from Department Webpages. Directory removal is automatic unless the employee is retaining a subsequent active status (Emeritus or continuing active employment in another role at Adelphi).

Have the employee provide you with access to important documents, files and emails and transfer ownership of data and google applications. Remove them from shared drives (Adelphi Log In Required). Approval from Human Resources is necessary if you

- Ensure that any files owned by the employee are transferred
- Ensure the Transfer of Calendars and Events
- Ensure access for any Google Groups or Google Sites that were owned by the employee
- Remove Email Delegations
- Unshare Your Calendar
- Manage Shared Drive Members (Adelphi Login Required)

Review internal departmental reporting and communication to ensure any automatically generated reports are forwarded to new person

Reassign direct reports a new supervisor in SAAS if necessary by contacting your HR Partner. This is important especially when the employee has a status change and their account will remain active.

Update Access to AUlists. If your employee was responsible for sending emails on behalf of your department or other university groups using the AU listservs, please contact the IT Help Desk to revoke access and request access for another employee.

Ensure access to employees Voicemail and have them forward their phone if needed. This can be done by contacting the Help Desk.

If the employee is retaining another role at Adelphi, Revoke their Long Distance Pin Access by contacting the Help Desk.

Inform others that the employee is no longer available at their Adelphi email address.
